ENERGY POLICY CONFERENCE

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 2017 1:00 PM TO 5:00 PM | NEW YORK, NY

Offshore Leasing, Grid Reliability, Pipelines & Energy Infrastructure in the Trump Admin & OPEC Meeting Preview Among Key Conference Topics

Hedgeye is pleased to announce our annual Energy Policy Conference on October 11 in New York City with special guest speakers:

The Honorable Dan Brouillette, US Deputy Secretary of Energy, US Department of Energy

His Excellency Chakib Khelil, former Algerian Energy Minister and former President of OPEC

The Honorable Vincent Devito, Counselor to the Secretary for Energy Policy, US Department of Interior

Karen Harbert, CEO, US Chamber of Commerce Global Energy Institute

Rhone Resch, Board Member, Sunworks & former President/CEO of Solar Energy Industries Association

Deputy Secretary Brouillette started as second in command at the US Department of Energy on August 7, 2017. His previous government positions included Staff Director at the US House Energy & Commerce Committee; and Assistant Secretary of Energy for Legislative Affairs in the Bush Administration. He is also a former state energy regulator having served as a member of the Louisiana State Mineral and Energy Board.

Minister Khelil will provide a preview of the upcoming OPEC meeting later in November as well as answer your questions about possible actions OPEC may take. With the Aramco IPO scheduled for 2018, the November OPEC meeting will take on even greater significance.

We will soon be announcing additional speakers, including senior government officials, representatives of the leading energy trade associations, and leadership from key energy companies.

SESSION TOPICS INCLUDE:

- OPEC Meeting Preview
- Regulating Pipelines, Grid Reliability and Energy Infrastructure in the Trump Administration
- New National US Offshore Oil & Gas Leasing Program
- Energy regulation on Federal Lands
- Renewable Energy Outlook
- Geopolitics of Oil
- A Look Inside the Energy Beltway & Key Energy Policy Catalysts
